

Restitution Law In American Zone

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The United States Military Government yesterday promulgated by military decree, over the objections of three German states in the American zone, a restitution law enabling thousands of persons to recover property wrested from them during the Hitler regime. United States officials said they expected between 20,000 and 25,000 to make claims in the zone to a value of from 250,000,000 to 200,000,000 reichsmarks. (7½ reichsmark worth 40 cents at present rates, now is worth 10 cents at the military rate.)

The military decree was issued after the Ministers President of Bavaria, Bremen and Württemberg—Biden Saturday rejected a draft law presented to them for approval. They said they agreed "in principle" with the law but could not accept some of the conditions, such as a provision that there would be no exceptions to the law in the event of currency reform in Germany.

Martin Surprised At Sask. Action

REGINA, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Health Minister Martin in an interview here yesterday said the federal government was surprised by the action of the Saskatchewan government in cancelling the $5 monthly supplementary old-age pensions.

Mr. Martin said in view of CCP representations for $50 monthly pensions, the federal government had increased pensions to $40 a month provincial government to pay that amount.

"We never thought any province would take steps to reduce the pension."

The federal government was eager to go ahead with national health and security programs but felt this could only be done with the co-operation of all provinces. Earlier Mr. Martin told a Canadian Club meeting that members of the United Nations Security Council by irresponsible use of their veto power were making the Security Council impotent to discharge its functions. This was occurring, despite the members' solemn pledge to use their veto power with "responsibility and with restraint."

Says Relations Are Friendly

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Edmond Turcotte took over his post as first Canadian consul-general at Chicago yesterday with the declaration that relations between Canada and the United States "are excellent and I'll do my best to preserve that state of affairs."

Turcotte held a press conference after his arrival at the consulate, opened last Monday in the Chicago Daily News buildings. Referring to protests reported to have been made in some Chicago quarters against his appointment, on grounds that he was "unfriendly" and guilty of "notorious anti-American expressions" in his writings, Turcotte said:

"If the Canadian government had had any doubts about me, it couldn't have thought of sending me here. If it did, it would be feeling for this country (the United States). I wouldn't have accepted the post."

Says Greece Saved By American Aid

By DEAN W. DITTMER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(UP)—President Truman said Monday that American aid has saved Greece from economic collapse and kept her free, but warned that the situation remains "grave" because of continued Communist guerrilla warfare. He hinted that further aid to Greece will be necessary. Mr. Truman described a still-dark picture in a letter transmitted to Congress the first report on the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program. Congress voted the aid $300,000,000 to Greece and $100,000,000 to Turkey—last May after Mr. Truman's historic stop-Communism speech in March. The report, prepared by the state department, said that reconstruction in Greece "has been hampered by continued guerrilla activity" which the Greek government had hoped to conclude last summer. "It added bluntly: 'If order can be restored, there is every reason to be optimistic about the recovery of Greece. If order is not restored, there can be no recovery.'"

Johnstone Gets Keys To Union Office

VANCOUVER, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Archibald H. Johnstone, Canadian vice-president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union, yesterday was granted possession of the offices of Local 28 by Mr. Justice Macfarlane in Supreme Court. Sheriff S. F. M. Moodie, custodian of the office keys since the heated dispute of a week ago in which local members attempted to eject the international executives, was ordered to give the keys to Mr. Johnstone.

Johnstone was here investigating alleged pro-Communist factions in the executive of the local. "Cases" for the defendants told the court that his defendants, former Local President May Watts, Mrs. May Lenz and Roy Moore had resigned their positions with the organization, and "no longer interested in the case."

Fishing Over Now It's Time For Marring

By ALAN RANDALL
GRINDSTONE, Madeline Islands, Que., Nov. 11.—(CP)—On this duty, windward set of islands far out in St. Lawrence Gulf, the fishing season is about over. And the time for marring up is near.

Islanders explain it this way: "We don't have much time for starting during spring and summer because all the men are fishing. But there's not much work to do once snow comes."

So, as November wanes, the feasting and partying starts among the islanders in a sea-surrounded set of communities where there is no liquor store, no crime is almost unknown and where the people, without trying especially to be good, don't ever do bad.

"The islanders never swear, absolutely. You don't hear them swearing," says Hornumda Langliah, their Union Nationale representative in the Quebec Legislature.

Langliah is proud of the island's roads, hospital and 30 schools. He sees them all as the work of himself and a Quebec government that has gone out of its way to care for the islanders.

They are industrious and so well-mannered that the postman on Grindstone Island has little to do.

"Murder?" said Mr. Langliah. "Never. There has never been a murder in the islands as far as I know."

Road Inspector Gauthier laughed at the idea of a murder in the islands.

"Nobody has a gun," he said.

Salmon Purchases Sharply Reduced

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(Reuters)—Food Minister Streeby was invited in the House of Commons yesterday to give both the original and final arrangements made with Canadian salmon packers for the purchase of United salmon from this year's pack of the British market.

Streeby replied: "The original arrangement was that the food ministry would purchase minimum percentages of each species of salmon which would have amounted to about 65 per cent of the whole pack."

"The final arrangements which we had to make owing to shortages of dollars was to purchase such quantities as the Canadian packers could not sell elsewhere up to a maximum of 20 per cent of each species."

Claim Wrongful Water Diversion

HAVRE, Mont., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Montana's Governor San C. Ford yesterday presented the United States case in an American-Canadian water dispute, and voiced a plea to the International Joint Commission for an equitable settlement, keeping in mind "the splendid relations" between the two countries.

The dispute involves the waters of the Sagre Creek, which originates in southern Alberta and flows into a shallow Montana Lake, 42 miles northwest of it. It was when J. W. Cox, Montana rancher, complained that Canadian farmers were depriving Montanans from water by wrongfully diverting it north of the border.

The commission's recommendations to both governments are expected to set a pattern for future disputes over streams not covered by a 1909 boundary water treaty.

The price of cans for canning fruit and vegetables has risen five per cent in the last 11 years.

U.S. Domineering Says Coldwell

WINNIPEG, Nov. 11.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCP, yesterday said in a press conference that peoples of Britain and Europe are being driven into the hands of the Communists by the domineering attitude of the United States.

Powerful United States interests are equally responsible for the common general manager of the Soviet Union for the present condition of international relations. Mr. Coldwell added.

He said: "Powerful North American interests will play right into the hands of Communism if they continue working against the British Labor government. If labor falls, the Communists will have great gains in Britain. It is a fallacy that Communism will never gain a foothold in England."

The Soviet wants peace, Mr. Coldwell said, because no country can wage war successfully unless strong industrially and "the Soviet want."

"It is the western European democracies, led by Britain, who offer the only hope of finding a middle way and a way of understanding."

Woman Manager New York Post

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Miss Mary McChung yesterday was named general manager of the New York Post and the Bronx Home News, a rare distinction for a woman in journalism.

The appointment was announced by Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Schreyer, who at the same time joined assumed dual functions as editors and publishers of both newspapers.

Miss McChung, who entered the newspaper business in 1927, joined the Post in 1937 and became its advertising director in 1942.

Another New York Daily, the Herald Tribune, is headed by a woman, Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid, who became president of the news paper last January. She formerly was advertising director and vice president of the Herald Tribune.

Thinks Charges Are Incorrect

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—(CP)—R. A. Hoy, Indian Affairs director of the mines and resources department said yesterday he had heard nothing of charges of mistreatment of Indian school children near Regina but that he would be greatly surprised if they were correct.

Mr. Hoy said charges made Friday by Regina college debaters that children treated "verging on outright cruelty" could not possibly be correct though he had had no report of them.

"We lean over backwards in our treatment of Indians at school," the federal minister of Indian Affairs said yesterday.

Prog-Con. MP Raps Government

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—(CP)—The federal government was urged last night by Dr. W. O. Blair, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Lanark, to co-operate with provincial and municipal authorities in the establishment of a co-ordinated national health plan.

In an address prepared for delivery before a joint meeting of Women's Progressive Conservative clubs here, he said thousands of Canadians were dying each year because the federal administration is "engaged in a quarrel of its own making" with Ontario and Quebec.

QUITE ASIDE FROM THE QUESTION as to whether or not the handling of the game at Lethbridge last Saturday night was a fair one, the fact remains the goal credited to Ralph Lake in the second period and which gave Maple Leafs a 3-2 lead, resulted from an offside.

As far as that particular game was concerned, the hoped-for improvement in officiating this season was not in evidence, and the disputed goal actually was only one of several instances of what seemed fairly obvious errors of judgment.

Clearly enough a Lethbridge play going over the Flyer line a minute or so afterward was called back for an offside which at least wasn't apparent from a vantage point in the press box, the natural inference being that it might be a case of trying to even matters up.

It is reported the referee's reaction to immediate complaints of the offside goal was "I'm sorry" and that one of the linesmen evaded the issue by claiming it was his colleague's call.

Why Not Try Neutral Officials?

HOME OFFICIALS WERE IN CHARGE at Lethbridge as has been the practice all year, with the exception of the last few games in Saskatchewan where Vic Lindquist of Winnipeg has been referee.

It is admitted that officials, like players, can have their good and bad days, but it also is agreed there are consistently capable arbiters operating in the circuit and some attempt should be made to secure their services for games in other than their own cities.

Just how the league heads view the results the Lindquist's handling of games in Saskatchewan and Regina is not known, but here's what Dave Dryburgh (Regina Leader-Post) has to say after Vic's first work in Queen City Gardens:

"The Lindquist's debut as referees contributed to an exciting evening. He permitted officials to give the works as long as it was above the belt, but when the chipmy start he pounced on the offenders and gave them the old heave-ho. They soon got the drift."

"It made for the kind of hockey that the customers like to pay to see and demonstrated what alert officiating can do toward keeping it that way."

Calgary Stamps Here Tonight

EDMONTON FLYERS, who CAME WITHIN a whisker of beating the Lethbridge Maple Leafs in their own den Saturday night, will face another stubborn task here tonight when they engage Calgary's Stampedeers at the Edmonton arena.

Flyers are in dire need of points and the Stampedeers are far from a gracious mood following their three straight setbacks in Saskatchewan. Tonight's match will all the earmarks of developing into a high-pitched battle between the two point-hungry aggregations. The Flyers didn't gamble so much on "trap plays" in Lethbridge, the defense keeping clear guard even when the power was turned on as the result. The consensus is that tonight's show will be one of the best of the season.

Montana Bobcats Seeking Dates

DICK BEDDOES REPORTS FROM University of Alberta that the Golden Bears basketball club after Christmas.

It seems the Bobcats proposed dates which the Bears couldn't meet. The Bears' trip to February, but that an alternate plan "might" be drafted. Bobcats rank high as a cage attraction, the Montana couple of a couple or so seasons ago having participated in the annual college invitation tournament at Madison Square Gardens.

Prof. Ritchie Hughes has an extensive program for men at Alberta this year, with basketball, basketball and volleyball prominent on the list.

Eleven Hold-Overs With Varsity Squad

The Golden Bear hockey team from the University of Alberta is being whittled down to shape by Coach Andy "Shorty" Purcell these days. And last night the maestro was ready to say that the Bears "will be a handful for any squad in the Western Alberta intermediate hockey league before the string is played out."

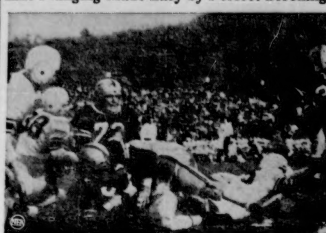

Camrose Maroons, Wetaskiwin Canadians, and Waterloo Merchants of Edmonton complete the loop along with the Bears. Purcell's 11 chosen of the Golden Bears through their Saturday drill at the arena. Of these 11 lined up in the Western Alberta intermediate hockey league, the Bears last season were the only team to win the championship.

DEFENSIVELY Varsity is well stocked. A quartet of goalkeepers has been on the firing line, with Jefferys of Calgary regular custodian for the past two years credited the inside track for the position. The others are Joe Moran, Calgary, Varsity Melchior, and Ken Torrance from Edmonton. The latter was first string centre with the Golden Bears football team last fall.

Half a dozen pucksters are slated for duty back of the blue line. Norm "Purdy" Boyer and Sam Saldan form one defensive pair while Billy Ingram and Don Camargo, and Dave Ellis and Junior Cameron complete the defence roster. The six all saw action with Varsity last season.

PURCELL is lining four line ups.

Think Russia May Hold Own Olympic Meet

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A senior official of the International Olympic Committee last night suggested the possibility that Russia will hold separate Olympic games for the Soviet sphere of influence.

"It is 'more than unlikely' now that the Russians will participate in the 1968 Olympic games, the official said, expressing belief that the Soviet may plan 'some kind of substitute Olympics' with Russian athletes.

"The Olympic Committee will make no further attempt to encourage Soviet participation. Even if it would, the Russians expressed a willingness to compete, the amateur status of most of their athletes would be a serious liability in doubt," the official added.

HE REFERRED specifically to the 1968 Olympic games which has played against teams of several European countries. Members of the Russian team have been "closely questioned" by the Olympic Committee during a four-day visit.

"It was found that the players were state employees, and spent seven months of the year training on full salaries.

"The fact that the International Olympic Committee would not accept them certainly has raised them ineligible for the Olympic Games, and there are strong reasons to believe that most Russian amateurs are in a similar position."

13 Clubs Pay $245,000 For Bush Leaguers

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Twenty-six bush leaguers got their chance at baseball's big time Monday as 13 clubs paid $245,000 for them in the annual draft.

A flock of top talent was passed over by the pickers as they reached for 27-year-olds and older in hopes of finding a new star, strict restrictions preventing "raiding" of the minor league. Only one player on the restricted list may be taken from any club.

DETROIT RAN into that barrier as it tried to pick up Clifford Dupont, a 27-year-old right-handed pitcher. He was saved for his Brooklyn owners through the fast pitcher. Al Gerstetter, left-handed pitcher from the Montreal record, was picked from the Montreal record by St. Louis Browns, first choosers.

Leslie M. O'Connor, Chicago White Sox general manager, said he was a "realist" and would follow a blitter controversy over the signing of a high school pitcher by St. Louis Browns, first choosers.

Weighting 32 pounds and five and one-half inches tall, he has also played first base and outfield. But, right-handed he had an average of .212 this last season, and was noted for "consistently" good batting.

Has Never Won Derby

Jockey Richards Sets Mark of 260 Winners

LEICESTER, England, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Gordon Richards, the black-browed darling of racing fans, yesterday smashed another British turf record by riding his 260th winner in one season—a record no other jockey may ever approach.

The ride to glory was one of the toughest in the 48-year-old jockey's career as he piloted Twenty-Two, a four-year-old black gelding, past the finishing post to win by the shortest of noses and break his own British record of 259 victories in one season.

RICHARDS, the office boy who answered a want ad for a stable boy and became the world's champion winning jockey, set the 260 figure in 1933 when he exceeded Fred Archer's record of 246 which had stood for a half century.

As a jockey apprentice, Richards rode his first winner at the age of 17 on March 31, 1921, in the first race of the season. His last victory was his 2472nd victory. He surpassed last May 19 the world record for winners in a jockey's career, a mark of 3,250 held by a British jockey, a British-born Belgian rider.

IN THE YEARS between Richards and the jockey champion, 30 times and exceeded 200 winners in a season, according to unofficial statistics, according to unofficial statistics, according to unofficial statistics.

A modest man who breeds piglets for a hobby, Richards is a wealthy man. He employs a valet and secretary and ride. He drives to work in a Rolls-Royce. He drives to his home near his farm home of London in a noisy Bentley.

Ask Children- Quit Playing City Streets

Edmonton's hockey-playing juveniles, blue-league stars of the future though they may be, are requested by Deputy Chief Constable Alex Riddell to practice elsewhere than on city streets.

Edmonton By JACK SCOTT A Yard Wide

This is the time of year when many men secretly cross-examine themselves on whether or not they will take to the long underwear in the cold days ahead and regretfully decide not to pull the wool over their thighs.

The decision will be particularly difficult this season for those who are facing their second or third winter out of uniform and this out of long underwear.

New men in the Armed Services submitted to long underwear each winter and were still awfully cold good deal of the time. In fact, several acquaintances of mine were two suits of long underwear simultaneously and constantly, and possibly would have considered a third layer if the Army had increased its issue.

Army underwear, of course, must be considered on its own merits and is not to be confused with store-bought underwear, purchases which a man usually makes in his right mind.

A good many of those who had nothing to do with long underwear previously, took the whole thing as a joke when they were confronted with the first gift of two whole suits.

Form-Fitting?

The long underwear came in three form-fitting sizes: large, medium and small, none of which would have fitted anything but the two-humped camels they were so obviously designed to accommodate.

In my own case I drew a pair of "mediums" made of a heavy grey wool with mysterious lettering all over them. Attired in this creation I was a fetching figure. A row of imitation pearl buttons stretched from my Adam's apple to just slightly below my knees.

Now this my legs were encased in overlapping folds of material beyond a problem I eventually solved with a pair of sharp shears.

The rear effect was equally limiting. Hanging limply down to the backs of my knees was a kind of sack effect with an intricate system of buttons and flaps apparently designed to allow the wearer an emergency exit in case of fire.

When all this yardage was bunched up into pants, a necessary procedure when wearing pants, an interesting bottle effect was achieved. Thousands of honed characters like myself developed a midline spread straight and seemed to be constantly wearing a western saddle.

It would think that this first encounter with the union suit would leave the wearer a well-developed, life-long, responsive, for the contraction.

That Small Size

A man enduring "small" long underwear always had the effect of walking around on his tiptoes and in some cases it was said that this type of union suit had actually pulled a man clear off the ground.

As it happened, however, most of us were quickly dispatched to the colder sections of the country to be hardened up or done away with outright, as the case might be, and even the Beau Brummels were glad to sacrifice their boudoir appearance for an even break with the elements.

Unfortunately the union suit in civilian circles is considered an embarrassing garment left left in the attic with the two-toned button shoes.

Millions of puny little men, whose life expectancy might be considerably longer if they were protected by one of these little suits, have seen so many advertisements of hand-tooled leather in striped slacks (holding a football in one hand) that they dare not show their mittens in any casual found only in Eaton's catalogue.

There undoubtedly has been some pressure applied, too, by wives. Whatever advantages go with long underwear, Medicine Hat and the Crown's Nest Pats, and their employers.

A modern wife catching a fleeting glimpse of father in his longies, might logically assume that the housewife is over. This something which no wife cares to admit. Nine times out of ten she will delay this disillusionment, even at the expense of the old man running the risk of double pneumonia.

Separate Board Holds 1st Meeting

Initial plans for the 1947-48 term of the Edmonton Separate School Board were made and election of a chairman and committee heads was held recently at the inaugural meeting of the board. Business for the one year period since the 1946 municipal election was also concluded at this meeting.

With various building projects now nearing completion, the finance committee was entrusted with the problem of making arrangements to meet the remaining financial obligations on capital account.

The BUILDING committee will confer further with the Edmonton Public Schools Board on the question of the proposed exchange of properties in the Jasper Place district.

Authorization was given for the purchase of additional furniture and equipment needed for the new schools and school extensions. The supplies committee will attend to this matter and will also call for tenders in the near future for school and caretaking supplies needed for 1948.

Delegates to the annual conference of the Alberta Education Council, which takes place in Edmonton on Nov. 28 will be the chairman and secretary-treasurer of the board.

The retiring chairman of the board, F. J. Killean, thanked his colleagues for the co-operation accorded him during his term of office. Trustees passed a resolution of appreciation to Mr. Killean for the successful manner in which he filled the office of chairman during the past two years.

At the INAUGURAL meeting of the 1948 board, the secretary-treasurer, A. A. O'Brien, presided until the election of a chairman had been completed. Following the reading of Returning Officer George Docherty's declaration and the taking of declarations of office by the re-elected trustees, Messrs. Halston, Pilon, Bateman and Gallant, the election of J. P. Pilon as chairman took place. J. A. Gallant, whose name was also placed in nomination for the office, stated he found it impossible to accept the nomination owing to pressure of business.

Standing committees for the forthcoming year were appointed. Mr. Killean will head the finance committee, J. O'Brien, building committee; A. J. Crowe, supplies committee; and W. G. Bateman, school management committee. The board's representative on the board of health will be Mr. Gallant and the associate directorate of the exhibition association, T. Malone.

The board will continue to meet on the second Monday of each month.

Conciliation Ends Calgary Dispute

Encouraging results were seen today by officials of the department of trade and industry following a successful conciliation of a wage and working condition dispute in Calgary, between members of the International Teamsters' union and Calgary milk distributors.

Success in averting further industrial action was announced by the department following negotiations between cafe and restaurant employees in Drumheller and their employers. This conciliation was carried out by Robert Leach.

Mr. Cope also has been named as conciliator between beverage distributors at Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and the Crown's Nest Pats, and their employers.

Premier Manning Says:

Attempt Being Made To Undermine Govt.

One faction of the Social Credit party whose members call themselves "Douglaites" represent "an attempt to undermine the Social Credit movement and destroy public confidence in the government" Premier Ernest Manning said Tuesday, when questioned on rumors of a rift in party ranks.

"There always has been a little faction of 'Douglaites' who think they have some special monopoly on the basic principles of Social Credit," Mr. Manning said.

PREDICTIONS were made by both inside and outside Social Credit ranks that the break in party lines would result in some "fireworks" at the Social Credit convention in Calgary Nov. 26, 27 and 28.

Followers of the "Douglaites" faction charge the Alberta government is more concerned with political power than with forwarding the basic principles of Social Credit and one of them, who would not be named, said that adherence to Social Credit principles should be the main objective of the movement.

Douglaites express themselves as "disturbed" over the recent announcement in status of the Social Credit board, under which the research section of the board remain under the department of economic affairs, while the propaganda or education work is to be carried on by the Social Credit League.

The whole question of the future of the party has been brought into the limelight by decision of the Privy Council on Alberta's Bill of Rights, latest move to introduce Social Credit in Alberta was ultra vires. "Where do we go from here?" has been the question. Party members who are "Douglaites" are said to be not satisfied with government answers to that question.

TORONTO, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Hunted the assailant who strangled Arlene Anderson might yesterday for a last look at the 13-year-old girl's body, detectives scoured hundreds among the hundreds who paraded Duncourt Road Presbyterian Church for her funeral.

A woman who told police she saw Arlene with a man Nov. 2, four days before the violated body was found in a vacant lot less than a mile from the girl's home west Toronto home, walked among the funeral crowd, scrutinizing faces. Two detectives followed her. But the slayer, if he was, was not spotted.

Mayor Robert Saunders, meanwhile, told City Council 12 men were assigned to seek out the killer, who strangled the girl with her own "knives." Rewards totaling $1500 have been offered. Police, still methodically questioning scores of suspects, give another description of the man they believe may be the slayer. Fred Sharp, who lives near the partly-crippled girl's home, said he saw Arlene and the man on the street a week ago Sunday, the night she disappeared. He described him as a man with dark hair, wearing a dark suit and a dark tie. He said he saw the man with a gun, and that he saw the man with a gun. Daring Gowns Reflect "New Look"

Audience 'Glitters' at Met Opening

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Booms attracted more attention than "bravo" last night as the Metropolitan Opera opened its third season with enough 100-watt diamonds in the glittering audience to pale the house lights. The "new look" was reflected in a number of daringly low-cut evening dresses that brought wolf whistles from the standers assembled in the lobby and on the streets to watch fashion's darlings parade into the diamond horse-shoe.

There were acres of white ermine—enough to snowblind a careless man—added only by the tawny simplicity of broad expanses of expensive silk. As is usual in the pomp of opening night at the old "Met," the cast of Verdi's grand "The Masked Ball" played second-fiddle to the spectators, gaudied in splendor for the kick-off of New York's social season.

It was less an event for music lovers than one for style fans and those who enjoy the paucity of wealth. There were the Duchesses of Tallergard, Argentine Ambassador Oscar Franchini; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chrysler; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Watson, the cash register man, and Mrs. Watson; Mrs. Warren Austin, wife of the chief United States delegate to the United Nations; opera singers Gladys Swarthout and Dorothy Kirsten, and Frank Sinatra, who also sang.

Mrs. George Drew, wife of the premier of Ontario, attended as a guest of her father, Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan and former resident of Guelph, Ont.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

Wherever a player asks "How would you bid this hand?" I am pretty sure that the hand has been dealt. So, having been dealt a hand, I am pretty sure that the hand has been dealt. So, having been dealt a hand, I am pretty sure that the hand has been dealt.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

If you are a stern mother, do you run to meet it or seek to shelter and wait until the worst is over?

If your martial companion gets up on the wrong side of the bed, and grows angry over trifles, do you face them boldly at the moment, or wait until he or she calms down and you can treat them unemotionally?

Most persons would answer "yes" to both last questions. In dealing with children, however, there seems to be no logic in attacking an issue when it is red hot. Wait until the temperature of all concerned is cooler. No problem must be solved right at the moment it arises.

No matter who the child, or in what type of home, each discoverer eventually, that his whims and desires do not make the world go round. Many a problem, serious at the moment, disappears with time, though nothing is done about it. For all of these reasons it would seem that tact and diplomacy win more battles than physical warfare.

It is difficult to reason with children. It is even more difficult to avoid misbehavior by removing the child from places which inspire it, or removing objects which attract destruction. If nothing works, then a period of isolation from everyone will help him just as much as to say, "you must" and then punish him if he disobeys.

Mrs. W. L. W. says her mother thinks such methods do not teach children the realities of discipline. "I am afraid I do not agree. So much of what we do to prevent children from acting in dangerous or naughty ways is discipline to them. Adults think of discipline as punishment, something that hurts and makes an impression on the child. This is only part of discipline. The larger part is guidance, frustration, disapproval which changes the child's view of acting etc. They are all disciplines.

Suppose the child is destructive. If the object he is tampering with is taken from him that "punish" him doesn't it? If he runs away outdoors and is brought in the house, he has lost his liberty, hasn't he? A parent acting in the right way guides the child in the proper path and prevents misbehavior whenever possible. Then, when the child is out of control, he will learn the reason why he cannot act according to his own, sweet desire.

Our infant, Nov. 75, "Disobedience and Punishment" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Reduced Calories Cause Concern

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Food Minister John Strachey told the House of Commons yesterday that the British rationed food supply, reduced recently to allow 2,000 calories daily for the "average consumer," is causing the government "grave concern."

He said the calorie value regarded as the minimum for the unemployed man in 1931 was 3,386 a day and, in response to questions, conceded "there are many getting very much less."

Strachey said the potato rationing started Sunday took about 700 calories daily from the average diet, but that this was anticipated by Sir Stafford Cripps, minister of economic affairs, on Oct. 23 when he disclosed the average calorie intake had fallen to 2,700.

Senator Taft Wants Realism

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (Rep. Ohio) said last night the policy of the United States toward Germany is "even more important to the re-establishment of Europe than the Marshall Plan."

Taft, who recently announced he would seek the 1948 Republican Presidential nomination, said in a dinner speech that he favored some kind of aid to Europe but urged that such expenditures be made gradually and with full knowledge of their effect upon the American economy.

"If we want the Marshall Plan we can not have lower prices," Taft said. "If we want lower prices we have to give up the Marshall Plan. The plan may be worth the cost, but let's be realistic and face that there is a cost."

Registered Seed Of Cereals Short

The price of registered seed in the three prairie provinces once again has been increased.

The reason for this increase is that an extraordinary demand has suddenly sprung up this year from European countries for Canadian registered and certified seed wheat. Many who are in the exporting business are bidding quite high prices for seed wheat. The prices set by growers, therefore, are in accordance with the effect they have had from these exporting concerns.

Possibility is that no such seed will be exported that insufficient will be left for the normal use of prairie farmers to improve their crops.

Those who are unable to purchase seed wheat this summer and who plant this last summer and whose samples were given an "A" grade—which is equal to certified or registered. If such farmers still have left in their bins wheat that corresponds with this sample, this would be a good source of supply and at a reasonable price for those other farmers who cannot purchase sufficient registered or certified seed sown in the fall. Obviously seed cannot be exported out of Canada and still be available to prairie farmers at the same time.

Low Handlings Of Livestock Noted

Low handlings of livestock were recorded on Edmonton stockyards during October due to the packing strike. Total of 258 carloads were less than half same month of 1946, about October of October, 1946. There were 8,070 cattle, compared with 14,000 a year ago and 11,012 same month two years ago.

Goats: 2,658 vs 2,858 and 3,559. Sheep: 3,817 vs 3,790 and 6,250.

Shipments for October included 170 carloads of B or B+ car cattle to Montreal, 13 cars cattle to Ontario, 15 car cattle and hogs to Manitoba, and 80 cars of cattle to provincial points.
